

MANAGEMENT of SECONDARY FINDINGS IN DNA SEQUENCING

Secondary findings in DNA sequencing carried out for a specific clinical indication can significantly affect the patient's health. In an article in Am J Hum Genet[1], Majeed et al. systematically review the existing international policies for the management of such secondary findings.

1. <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/39299240>